About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHEUS T.

Former Classmate,
Although Stricken,
Keeps Sense of Humor

HERE IT IS, JULY 25 already and the big fair ready to start and it won't be long until football season.

I've always depended upon August as the month when the lawn-mowing dwindles off, but after taking a stick and scratching the earth's surface, it looks like there's going to be enough moisture to keep the stuff coming up till November.

This cool weather we had this week was a blessed respite from the torrid humidity of the week before.

And on one of the hottest days of last week Mary Richardson made a B and PW trip to Paducah. As she arrived at the bridge across the Ohio an electric sign was announcing boldly, "Ice on Bridge."

AND WHILE WE'RE on the subject of ice, Timotheus has just received a copy of The Home Nugget, the oldest newspaper in Alaska.

Got it from Opal Catlin, nurse, who left here a short time ago to become manager of Maynard-MacDougall Memorial hospital at Nome.

The July 3 issue said she had just taken over management of the hospital as administrator and had taken steps to find temporary replacement for Dr. F. Langsam, who had left the previous day for the United States.

The article said:
"Mrs. Catlin is not a stranger in Nome, having been on the hospital staff in 1954."

A CLASSMATE OF MINE from the second grade on through high school was the subject of an article the other day in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the story being written by John Keasler, staff member.

He is Ralph Ritchey, who played the violin and baritone horn back when I was playing the cornet.

Ralph went on with music and I went on with trivia and during World War II he directed the Eighty-First Infantry band, returning as band director of the East Alton-Wood River high school.

I hadn't heard about it previously, but in 1949 he suffered a brain tumor and after surgery had to learn to walk and talk.

"The words were right there in my mouth, but I couldn't form them," he said in the P-D interview. Finally he got on his feet and resumed teaching but in 1953 he was struck again.

After long convalescence he is now able to get around on an aluminum crutch, is deaf in one ear

Irving Hudes Is Indicted

Charged By Federal Jury With 'Kiting' $7,300 in Checks Among Three Banks

Irving I. Hudes, who came to Harrisburg a few years ago and began the industrial development that ended with the uncompleted factory building in Dorrisville, has been indicted in federal court.

The federal grand jury at East St. Louis yesterday indicted Hudes, 42, on charges of interstate transportation of stolen property.

He is charged with "kiting" three checks totalling $7,300 among three banks in September and October, 1952.

United States Attorney Clifford Raemer said Hudes would draw a check on one bank in excess of the amount he had on deposit there, cash it elsewhere and then make a deposit before it cleared.

The three banks were the Manchester Bank of St. Louis, First National Bank of East St. Louis and the Bank of Marion. Raemer said Hudes operated Nu Method, Inc., a company to promote establishment of small industries.

Waitress Claims Area Reporter Threatened Her

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (UP)—Authorities today indicated a beating suffered by newspaper reporter Robert McClure may have stemmed from a tavern brawl.

State's Atty. William Ridgeway made public a statement Thursday from a barmaid who charged McClure threatened her with a gun and demanded she accompany him from a tavern.

McClure, denied the statement by Mrs. Audrey Penrod, 27, and said he couldn't recall meeting her before the night of the beating. The reporter for the Murphysboro bureau of the Southern Illinoisan newspaper of Carbondale also denied quarreling with anyone in the tavern.

McClure was attacked early Wednesday shortly after leaving the Midway tavern near De Soto. He lay unconscious for 3½ hours along a highway before crawling to a farm house for aid.

Mrs. Penrod's statement, published in full by McClure's newspaper, said the reporter laid a German pistol on a table and said, "You're going to leave with me or I'll kill whoever comes through that door."

Mrs. Penrod said McClure later told Gene Hines, owner of the tavern, "I'll wait for you outside." She said she heard McClure call something from outside, but did not think he was in trouble.

When she and Hines finally left the tavern Mrs. Penrod said, they saw McClure lying on the ground with blood on his shirt.

"Hines said to leave McClure alone," Mrs. Penrod continued. She said McClure then got into his car, started the engine and was sitting in the car when she and Hines left the scene.

'Dome' While Digging Geodetic Dome at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP)—One dome has led to others at Southern Illinois University.

Student designers were digging a trench to anchor a 47-foot modern "geodesic dome" on a knoll-shaped rise east of the SIU campus.

In their diggings, they uncovered bits of charred pottery, flint chips and projectile points.

SIU Indian lore authority Irving Peithmann said the objects were left thousands of years ago by woodland Indians who camped on the site and probably lived in dome-shaped huts.

The 20th Century geodesic dome is an intricate creation of aluminum ribs, canvas and plastic. The Indian domes were probably made of bent saplings covered with bark or hides.

SIU Trustees Approve $13.4 Million Budget

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP)—A record operating budget of $13,416,923 for the 1957-58 school year has been approved by the Southern Illinois University board of trustees.

Of the total funds, $10,738,000 will come from the state. The remainder will be made up of student fees, auxiliary enterprises, gifts, sales and services and student activity fees.

Salary increases of one million dollars were provided for faculty and staff members and student workers. The budget also included increased instruction facilities for an expected record enrollment of 7,000 students this fall.

The largest single item in the budget is $8,222,000 for personal services, mostly salaries.

SIU President D. W. Morris said, "Although we continue to face financial difficulties in certain areas, this budget enables us to meet current demands in general, and to continue a pattern of development geared to helping adults as well as young people to successfully solve personal and community problems."

J. Cecil Sullivan Taken to Hospital While in Springfield

J. Cecil Sullivan, Harrisburg business man, became ill while eating breakfast in Springfield yesterday morning and was taken to St. John's hospital for treatment. Mr. Sullivan was ill at his stomach when taken to the hospital and tests were being made to determine his ailment.

He went to Springfield with Dale Sullivan, head of Sullivan Loan Co. in Harrisburg, to a meeting of the newly-formed Independent Small Loan association, composed of independent loan associations throughout the state, of which Dale Sullivan recently was elected president.

New Gilley and Guard Station Now Open

The Gilley and Guard Friendly Mobilgas Service at Route 45 and Walnut street in East Harrisburg is now in business and the formal opening will be announced at a later date.

The station is operated by Pat Gilley and Jim Guard, both experienced service station operators, who invite their friends to stop in and visit them.

Their new business is a sparkling new station in a large triangle at the intersection. The building contains facilities for washing, greasing and other service work.

Stratton's Decision on Freedom Plea by Leopold Expected Next Week

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Gov. Stratton is expected to announce next week his decision on thrill killer Nathan Leopold's plea for freedom.

The fate of Leopold's plea for executive clemency will be decided by Stratton alone. The governor is not required to follow the recommendations of the board, and the board's decision must be kept secret by state law unless Stratton authorizes its release.

Leopold, 52, is serving an 85-year term in Stateville Penitentiary for the kidnap-murder of 14-year-old Bobby Franks in one of the nation's most shocking crimes.

Leopold, now suffering from diabetes and a heart condition after 33 years in prison, begged the governor for mercy so he could end his days in freedom.

OUT OF STOCKADE—U. S. Airman third class Donald Wheeler, who was court martialed for refusing to get a "white sidewall" haircut, was released from prison in Fuchu Japan. The release was ordered on grounds that there had been technical errors in his trial. Talking to newsmen, Wheeler said he'd rather go back to the guard house than give in now and get the short GI haircut. Here, Wheeler is shown running his hands through his now famous hair. Seven Others Hurt

Auto Suicide Blast Kills Man, Estranged Wife, Girl Walking By

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A construction project dynamite blaster set off an explosive charge in his car Thursday night killing himself, his estranged wife and a nine-year-old girl who was walking past eating an ice cream cone.

Seven others were injured. Police said there was "no doubt" that Arthur Depew, 29, set off the blast which ripped his car to shreds and broke nearly every window in a crowded North Side block.

Depew and his bride of six months, Elaine Depew, 18, were sitting talking about a possible reconciliation. Witnesses saw him lean forward and look at the floor just before the blast.

Linda Kraus, who had just left a dairy with her sister and grandfather where they purchased ice cream cones, was beside the car when the explosion occurred.

She was hurled against a storefront like a matchstick in a hurricane. The nine-year-old died two hours later in Allegheny General Hospital.

The Depews died instantly in the explosion. Police said Depew's brother-in-law, William Gitschier, Bridge-

Murphysboro Club Held Up

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (UP)—A bandit with a burlap mask fled with "about $150" from the Murphysboro American Legion Club early today after warning the bartender to "get down or I'll blow your head off."

Sheriff Howard Cheatham said bartender Charley Aiasi told him he was alone when the holdup occurred. The bandit was described as being 5 feet 10 inches and wearing a gray coat and hat.

Delmas Miley and Daughter, Katie Lou, Move Into New Home

Delmas Miley and daughter, Katie Lou, have moved into their new home at 119 West Sloan street, which is two doors east of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Ziegler.

The house is a new one, having been constructed to sell by Fanno Biedig, Galatia contractor.

Mr. Miley and Katie Lou returned Thursday from Chicago, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter "Cow" Lee for a week.

Mr. Miley said he planned to sell his place on Route 2 south of Harrisburg.

Death Takes Miss Sally Guard

Miss Sally Guard died today at noon in the Lightner hospital where she had been critically ill for the past several weeks. She had made her home with Mrs. T. R. McCormick, 115 West Poplar street, for several years caring for Mrs. McCormick.

Her body has been taken to the Gaskins funeral home where it will lie in state Saturday morning awaiting the arrival of relatives from Michigan.

Police List 272 Persons Dead, 307 Missing in Floods and Landslides

TOKYO (UP)—A deluge of 27 inches of rain in less than 24 hours hit Kyushu Island with catastrophic force today, causing floods and landslides. The known dead and missing were in the hundreds.

Official police figures listed 272 persons dead and 307 missing. The figures were expected to rise when communications are restored.

Japanese press reports from the scene said the death toll may run as high as 3,000.

Police reported 72,000 persons homeless and 46,048 homes destroyed or flooded. Weathermen predicted more rains in the devastated areas where pilots reported seeing bodies floating in the sea.

Police listed 47,998 persons belonging to 9,682 families as "affected" by the floods—their homes washed away or wrecked. Police reported 1,031 houses damaged, 256 washed away and 29,117 flooded.

The worst hit were the cities of Isahaya, with a population of 60,000, and Omura, a city of half that size, on Omura Bay on the west coast of Kyushu and some 10 miles from atom-bombed Nagasaki. Kyushu is Japan's southernmost main island.

The Mainichi newspaper correspondent at Nagasaki called Isahaya a "city of the dead" and said police estimated 2,000 to 3,000 killed there. The newspaper Yomiuri said 3,000 were drowned in the two cities.

The Kyodo News Service reported from Isahaya today that "large numbers of persons" were still clinging to rooftops clamoring for help and that Japanese ground troops sent on rescue missions could only look on helplessly across the swirling waters.

Dozens of landslides were reported in the mountainous area around Nagasaki and the U. S. Navy said 100 persons were missing in a landslide between Nagasaki and Sasebo and that 1,500 persons were "cut off." A landslide in Tensui buried 50 more persons and these too were feared dead.

U. S. military installations apparently were in no danger.

Eileen E. Quigley, who has been serving as chairman of the home economics department since 1948, was named dean of the new school which will include four departments.

The departments and their chairmen will be: clothing and textiles, Adeline Hoffman; food and nutrition, Marion A. Wharton; home and family, Betty Jane Johnston; and home economics education, Anna Carol Fultz. Dr. Hoffman will join the faculty Sept. 23. The other chairmen are regular members of the home economics staff.

Addition to the new home economics unit gives Southern a total of five schools, two colleges and two divisions.

In another action, the board authorized the University to grant master's degrees in newly-organized departments including the general areas of home economics, business and business education.

Advancement degrees will also be awarded in animal industry, general agriculture, and plant industry under the School of Agriculture; speech and theater in the School of Communications; education administration and supervision, and secondary education in the College of Education; design in the School of Fine Arts, and anthropology and physiology in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Approval of the new graduate programs brings to 42 the number of fields in which master's degrees are offered by SIU.

80 Miners Escape Freeman Fire

MARION, Ill. (UP)—Some 80 miners escaped uninjured after fire broke out in the Freeman No. 4 slope mine of the Freeman Coal Mining Corp. near here Thursday night.

Emery Milligan, preparation engineer, said the fire started in a motor. The motor, 50 feet of 36-inch rubber haulage belt and the headframe for the belt were destroyed. No damage estimate was given.

Mine rescue teams from Benton and Herrin, and company personnel put out the blaze early today after about five hours.

One section of the mine was not operating today but full production is expected tonight, Milligan said.

Democrats Blame President

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower voiced "great disappointment" today over the defeat of the $1,500,000,000 school construction bill—a defeat which Democrats and some Republicans blamed on him.

Mrs. Anne Wheaton, associate White House press secretary, told reporters the President at a White House breakfast conference with Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland "expressed great disappointment that the House did not see its way to pass an appropriate measure to meet the critical shortage of schools."

She said she did not know whether Eisenhower has communicated his views to the entire Republican congressional leadership.

The House killed the bill by a narrow 208-203 vote Thursday after an anti-segregation amendment was tacked to it.

Northern and western Democrats blamed Eisenhower's cool attitude toward it for the negative votes of a crucial handful of Republicans who might have been expected to back an Eisenhower-supported measure.

Republicans also expressed qualified criticism of the President's

Soviet Laments

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

The Russians don't like the talk from President Eisenhower and top U. S. scientists that in a few years they will be able to produce an H-bomb almost "clean" of radioactive fallout. It doesn't fit with their propaganda against the continuance of nuclear tests.

The sad laments of a Soviet newspaper that the Americans are going to develop a "notorious clean bomb with which they can destroy mankind with a greater amount of precision" have a hypocritical ring.

If a clean bomb should be perfected, then the hydrogen device becomes simply a colossal explosive capable of destruction on an unprecedented mass scale. In this respect it differs thereafter only in degree from any other explosive ever employed in warfare.

The Russians have the largest land army on earth, and certainly the biggest if not the most powerful air force. Beyond doubt this military establishment is well equipped with conventional arms
— whatever may be Russia's stock of nuclear weapons.

The human beings who would be killed by the conventional bullets, shells and bombs used by this army in any future war would be just as dead as anyone killed by an H-bomb, clean or otherwise.

What the Soviet Union seems to be saying, as others have tried to say before, is that it is all right to kill people singly or in modest hundreds or thousands, but it is wrong to kill them in the tens or hundreds of thousands.

Russia's bleeding for humanity is phony. What the Kremlin really dislikes is the fact that the United States has a commanding advantage in a field that is so important as to constitute an effective bar to all Soviet designs of major military conquest.

Leaving aside all arguments of moral character and of damage to innocent millions through fallout, it is plain that a clean bomb would increase our advantage. It would mean we could use nuclear devices tactically with no fear that our own troops and our own population would be fatally contaminated by lethal side effects.

We would much prefer not to use them at all, nor conventional weapons either. We genuinely want effective disarmament. But there is nothing contradictory in going ahead to perfect our weapons at the same time we discuss disarmament.

For, much as we desire peace, we must be prepared for war, prepared to help protect ourselves and the whole free world, until that moment when real, enforceable disarmament comes into actual being.

Handbook on Nuclear Bombs Gives Grim Survival Picture

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Next to President Eisenhower's scheduled escape from Washington by helicopter, the loudest pin dropped in this year's "Operation Alert" Civil Defense Administration test is its issuance with the Atomic Energy Commission of a new handbook on "The Effects of Nuclear Weapons."

In brief, it is 579 pages of bad news, any way you look at it.

This paper-backed volume — which you can buy for $2 like any other losing horse — replaces a 1950 handbook on "The Effects of Atomic Weapons." The change in title is significant.

Seven years ago the worst thing they had to be afraid of was an atom fission bomb the equivalent of 20,000 tons of TNT in explosive force. Two bombs of this size, exploded over Japan, killed "only" 100,000 people.

But on March 1, 1954, the first hydrogen fusion bomb was exploded over Bikini with a force equivalent to 15 million tons of TNT and a radioactive fallout that covered 7,000 square miles. That made the original weapons effect handbook obsolete.

Most of the information in the new nuclear weapons job has been issued before by AEC or CDA in bits and pieces. Now it is pulled together to give you all the gloom in one package.

There are brand-new chapters on "Worldwide Fallout," which could be terrible, and on "Protective Measures" that can be taken, which aren't very many and won't do much good.

The new handbook makes no mention of the so-called "clean" bomb, which is still pretty theoretical. What it has to say is all about dirty bombs. This should be taken seriously — particularly in Civil Defense Test Week — but it probably won't be so taken.

The general impression from previous releases is that the worst effects of fallout from an H-bomb would be in areas up to 40 miles wide and 200 miles long, downwind from ground zero point of explosion. This local fallout is described as ceasing to be a serious hazard within a few weeks.

But there is another form of fallout, says the handbook. It consists of very fine material suspended in the air for from a few days to years. This may be deposited in parts of the earth remote from the point of burst. This is "worldwide fallout."

The major part of this fallout is moved by the winds at high altitude. In general, it is carried in an easterly direction.

It makes a complete circuit of the globe in four to seven weeks.
Only 10 per cent of this debris descends to earth annually.

Rain and snow are the principal scavengers that bring it down. Its two worst hazards are the radioactive isotopes Cesium 137, which is deposited in muscles, and Strontium 90, deposited in bones.

Strontium 90 may lead to anemia, cancer and possibly leukemia.

"If nuclear tests are carried out in the future at about the same rate as in the past," says the new handbook, "the long-term biological effects of Strontium 90 will not be detectable." On this point, many other scientists differ greatly.

The most effective but not necessarily the most practical method of minimizing the danger of nuclear weapons, says the handbook, would be by dispersal and underground construction.

Evacuation — removal of the population from a contaminated area — is by no means simple because it involves passage without protection through contaminated areas.

It may be that the best initial step is to seek shelter in relatively closed areas, but the handbook admits that "an ideal shelter is virtually impossible to attain."

Such shelters as can be found may have to be occupied continuously from two to seven days.
Food and water supplies should be kept covered to prevent access of fallout particles. Filters for removing small particles of matter may be desirable.

If water is available, the exposed food can be washed free of contamination — provided that the water itself isn't contaminated.

Where water from a reservoir is subjected to regular coagulation, sedimentation and filtration, it is probable that much of the radioactive material would be removed.

As for eating foods raised on soil contaminated by fallout, the handbook admits there isn't sufficient information available yet.

Fine China Calls For Care in Use

IOWA CITY — (UP) — Fine china which is often displayed but rarely used can take daily use if given proper care, a University of Iowa home economist said.

Margaret Keyes said care should begin with proper storage.
This means keeping similar shaped pieces stacked together with a piece of protective material between them.

Cups shouldn't be hung by the handles because it puts pressure on the weakest part of the cup, the point where the bowl and handle are joined, she said.

China should be washed separately and in soft, warm water with a mild soap. The water should be of uniform temperature, with no scalding water used as a rinse.

Miss Jody Kennedy and Ronald Gelso Exchange Marriage Vows at Metropolis

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gelso

Miss Jody Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Kennedy, Eldorado, and Ronald Gelso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gelso Jr., West Frankfort, were married at four o'clock in the afternoon on June 30 in the First Christian church of Metropolis. Rev. O. L. Angel performed the double-ring ceremony before the altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and branch candleabras of burning white tapers.

Mrs. Elmer Hamilton, Eldorado, played nuptial music before the ceremony, the conventional processional and recessional wedding marches and accompanied Alex Kennedy, uncle of the bride, as he sang, "Through the Years," "I'll Walk Beside Thee," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a fitted bodice pointed at the front and back waistline. The long sleeves were pointed at the hands. The scooped neckline was finished with flowers of pearls and sequins and the floor length skirt of tulle over satin bore panels of Chantilly lace, back and front. The bride's sequin trimmed Chantilly lace half-hat secured the chapel length veil of illusion. She carried a white Bible, topped with a bouquet of lilies of the valley cascading from a central white orchid.

Mrs. Robert L. Wills, Metropolis, sister of the bride, served as her matron of honor. Her dress was of light blue silk organza having a scooped neckline, cap sleeves and a full, ballerina length skirt over tulle. Her crownless picture-hat was of the same material and supported large self-bows and shoulder length streamers. Her colonial bouquet was of blue and white flowers on pale blue net, tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Charlene Shurt, Metropolis, close friend of the bride was her bridesmaid. Her costume and flowers were identical with that of the matron of honor.

Jack Gelso, Harrisburg, brother of the bridegroom, acted as his best man. Robert Hampton, Robert Link and Robert Wills were ushers.

Miss Kathy Korte, wearing a pale blue ballerina length dress of embossed cotton, and matching accessories, was candlelighter with Robert Wills.

The bride's mother wore a blue lace sheath dress embroidered with matching pearls. Her accessories were a matching blue and her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

The mother of the bridegroom chose for her son's wedding a pink linen sheath dress, accented with trimming of rhinestones. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of white gladioli.

There was a reception in the church parlors immediately following the wedding ceremony. Decorations were blue and white. The three tiered wedding cake held the place of honor at the bride's table and supported a miniature bride and groom. The decorated cake knife had been used by the bride's grandmother and great-grandmother at their wedding receptions.

Hostesses were Miss Geri Korte, Miss Judy Walbright and Mrs. Henry Niecamp, who kept the guestbook. Mrs. Robert Palmer was in charge of the reception arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Gelso left on a honeymoon trip after the reception and are now at home to their friends at 1701 Ferry street, Metropolis.

The bride attended William Woods College, Fulton, Mo., and has been a stenographer for the Electric Energy Corp. She is a member of the Christian church and the Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Mr. Gelso attended SIU and served for four years in the U. S. Navy. He is employed by the Electric Energy Corp. in the operating department.

Out of town guests at the wedding included:

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Goldman, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Goldman Jr., Mrs. Barney Spencer and daughters, Louise and Sarah Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Sebe Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kennedy, Mrs. Raymond Russell, Colin Kennedy, Mrs. Elmer Hamilton, Miss Ruth Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Putnam, Eldorado; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gray, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Buter, Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas, and Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Harper, Harrisburg.

MAN OF THE WEEK In Carrier Mills

By BILL MELTON

Hillis Mathews could well be called "Mr. I. O. O. F. of Carrier Mills."

The Carrier Mills business man has been active in the work of the Odd Fellows lodge for 27 years and interest in the fraternal order is second only to his family and church.

Mr. Mathews was born in Pope county 53 years ago, the son of Marion and India Mathews. His birth place was a two-room log house, now a barn, between Glen-dale and Eddyville.

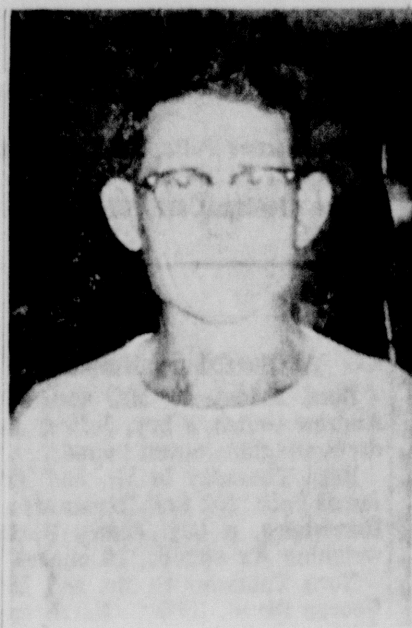

When Hillis was 13 years old the family moved to Carrier Mills where his father had employment in a coal mine.

At an early age Hillis had a severe case of measles and his eye sight was effected to the extent that the family doctor advised him to quit school before he had completed elementary school.

At 15 he went to work in the grocery department of the B. E. Hart department store in Carrier Mills.

At the age of 17 he was married to the former Miss Essie Thompson, a native of Carrier Mills.

During the next several years Hillis was employed in coal mines of the county and for two years—

Hillis Mathews

1925 and 1926—resided in Decatur and worked for the Wabash Railroad.

In 1945 he left the coal mines and went into the grocery business in the Carrier Mills business district. He is still a grocer, but two years ago built a new building near his residence. He lives in a well-kept home facing Route 45 and the store is at the rear facing Wiley street.

Twenty-seven years ago Hillis joined the Odd Fellows Lodge and during that period has held every office in the Carrier Mills lodge and has been treasurer for 18 consecutive years. He also served three terms as District Deputy Grand Master, on appointment of the Grand Lodge, and also has served four terms as district president, an elective office.

For about ten years the Mathews family resided in Ledford and were active in the work of the Baptist church there, as they now are in Carrier Mills.

Hillis was superintendent of the Sunday school at Ledford for six years and was ordained a Deacon at Ledford. He also has taught Sunday school classes and been a member of the church choir.

Only once has he been a candidate for office, being elected to the board of education in Ledford.

There are three Mathews children—Vivian, wife of the Rev. J. L. Evitts, pastor of Pierson Baptist church; Phyllis Jean, wife of Wayne Kennedy, St. Louis; Kathryn, at home and a sophomore at the Carrier Mills Community high school.

When asked about hobbies, Hillis answered, "When I have any time, I visit the sick."

Central Grade School to Begin Classes Sept. 3

The Central grade school of Carrier Mills will begin classes for the school year 1957-58, Monday morning, Sept. 3.

Bus routes will be the same as last school year and the time will be the same.

Student insurance will be offered to students for $1.25 for the school year. This insurance is to cover school time accidents. It is recommended that each student be covered by this insurance so that parents may be protected from loss in case of injury to the child.

Book rental fee for Central grade school students to pay the first day of school will be $5.00 per student throughout all grades and kindergarten.

The hot lunch program will again be available to all students. The amount of the lunch will be 25c per day payable in advance. The charges for the lunch includes milk with the meal and proper meats and vegetables to provide a sufficient protein and vitamin content as recommended for a balanced noonday meal.

First and Fifth Graders Need Physical Exams

All students who will be in the fifth grades and first grades of the Carrier Mills Central school are required by state law to have a physical and dental examination before entering school Sept. 3.

State law is very specific concerning these examinations and parents are encouraged to have their children see a physician and dentist as soon as possible to avoid the last minute rush. This is a state-wide law and every first and fifth grade student in the elementary schools of Illinois is required to undergo these examinations.

Forms are available in the office of the Carrier Mills Central Grade school. These forms may be obtained at any time between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m., except on Saturdays.

The completed forms are to be given to the teacher of the student on the first day of school.

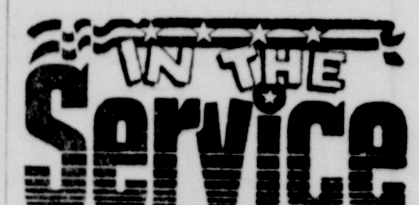

Students who were retained in the first and fifth grades are not required to have the exam.

Lions Plan Work Session Monday At City Park

The regular meeting of the Carrier Mills Lions Club Monday, July 29, will be a "work session" at the city park and all members are urged to be present and ready to work.

Many people have used the park for picnics this year and the Lions club members stress that the park is for the general public and everyone is urged to enjoy an outing. There is a big shelter, plenty of picnic tables and the park is well lighted.

The next evening, he dressed carefully for the dance. He felt— he was—gay and excited. Lightly, he ran his fingertips over the ruffles on the frilled shirt he wore. There would be fancier ones at the party tonight, but for Garde . . .

He slipped into his coat and gave himself one last inspection in the big mirror over the dresser. Neat but gaudy, he said silently, and his eyebrows arched quizzically at himself. That was Kurt-talk, which he had learned to do fairly well.

He snapped off the lights and went into the hall, ran down the carpeted stairs to the back parlor where his mother sat before the TV set. He turned slowly about before her. "Looka me!" he demanded. His happiness gloved in his face.

Beth Shelton saw it there and showed dismay. She tossed her head. "I suppose you're going to a dance," she said coldly.

"I told you—"

Beth's eyes went back to the screen, but she frowned. "I thought you were going with one of the Stanfield girls."

He laughed again, bent over and kissed her soft cheek. "I am!" he said excitedly.

Mrs. Lacey Fulkerson of Pontiac, Mich., Mrs. Lillie Dennis, and Melinda Sue Parris visited Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mullinix of Dorrisville.

"Which one?"

"Nan, of course. Valley's out of town, and anyway . . ."

"Oh, she came home today. I always know—she makes plenty of noise. And I thought from your shirt . . . Who's going to iron all those ruffles?"

"I'm taking Nan, and I like it that way. And I hope she likes my shirt. But I wouldn't guarantee that she won't ask about the ironing of it. She's the practical type, too."

"Humph!" said his mother.

Then—her cheeks pink—she reached for Garde's hand and held it to her cheek. "Oh, Garde," she cried, "don't pay any attention to me! I think you're wonderfully handsome in your frilled shirt."

Her eyes were as shy as those of a young girl. "I guess the truth is that I'm jealous of the girl you're wearing it for."

Garde stood watching her, a smile in his eyes. "Oh, Mother!" he said in reproach.

"I know what I'm talking about. Men can be very blind. You consider Nan as friendly and fun to be with. But, I see her as bold. Any girl who'd go dancing the way she does and have dates—why, she took you out for a whole afternoon in that boat of hers—while all the time she's engaged to a man who is in prison because of her. Of course some say that Kurt Lillard insisted that the engagement be declared off—but she must feel that she's still bound to him."

This was the first Garde had heard of Kurt's having released Nan. She wore no ring, he knew that. But—why had Lillard? Oh, of course, it would have been the only decent thing to do! Or had he done it because it was Valley he loved? Garde believed that would have been the only basis on which Nan would have surrendered the ring.

"Good night, Mom!" he broke in on Beth, lifting his hand in farewell. He went swiftly down his front steps and across to the Stanfields' without one glance at Valley's trees or the ground around them.

But the door was opened by Valley.

She made a gag of the door opening.

ening, asked his name and to see his driver's license. . . .

Laughing at her nonsense, Garde stepped into the front hall. "Aren't you going to the dance?" he asked.

And Valley laughed helplessly. "I'm not going because I'm tired. Or would you know about that?"

"I know about it. Oh—"He stood and gazed at Nan who was coming down the stairs, looking pretty in a full-skirted dress of yellow-checked gingham, flounced with bands of narrow white embroidery.

Valley was watching them, looking from Garde's intent, dark face to Nan's glowingly happy one. She followed them to the door. "Have fun, you two," she told them, "but watch your step—and do be careful where you sit out a dance. Stay away from that pier. Someone might turn on the floodlight, and the trick doesn't always work the way the plotter hopes. I rigged that once for laughs and got my sister into a peck of trouble." She made a good thing of talking as if she spoke of strangers. It took Garde and Nan a full minute to realize what Valley was doing.

Nan stood staring at her. "You—" she whispered. "You rigged it, Valley?"

Valley clung to the edge of the dark oak door as if for support. "Sure," she said readily.

The panel in the Stanfield front door was a combination of clear and opaque glass to form an ornate pattern of scrolls and an urn filled with flowers. Nan took a step toward her sister and against that gray glass pane her profile was as white as milk. "But why," she asked between rigid lips, "why do you tell me—now?"

"Oh," she said, with a wave of her hand—a wave which didn't quite come off; it faltered perceptibly at the end of its arc. "I just suddenly find myself impelled to undo that wrong—and others. This time I've made it. I had something of the same impulse immediately after I'd played that foul trick, but I didn't follow through. Maybe now it's too late; maybe now it won't do a bit of good. I know I can't undo the fact that one man is dead, and another—" her voice threatened to break—"and another is in prison."

Field Day to Show Farm Pond As Safe Water Source

The George Aydelott farm south-east of Harrisburg has been selected for a district Illinois Farm Electrification Council field day on August 6. The field day has been planned to show farm families in this area how a modern adequate water system can be supplied from a farm pond.

The various parts of the system including farm pond, stock watering, filtration, purification, and pumping will be explained by farm advisers, soil conservationists, and representatives from power suppliers, equipment manufacturers, University of Illinois, and the State Department of Health.

All interested persons are invited to attend. Two separate tours are planned. Saline county residents are requested to attend from 9 a. m. to 12 noon and others from noon to 4 p. m. The farm can be reached by driving south of Harrisburg on Route 34 through Pankeyville. About 1 mile south of Pankeyville, directional signs on the side of the road will direct you to the Aydelott farm.

Treasury Engraves 'In God We Trust' on Paper Money First Time

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Treasury, putting two new printing presses into operation, engraved "in God we trust" on paper money for the first time today.

In case of rainy weather the field day will be held on the next day, August 7.

Biggest Sellers...because they're Biggest Savers!

Turn a Task-Force truck loose on a tough haul and you've got it made. You've got a truck that'll stay and save on any job!

From that big six-wheeler, above, right down the line, Chevrolet trucks offer the most advanced hour- and dollar-saving features you'll find anywhere. Chevy pickups, for example, offer high-capacity bodies up to 108 inches long with no wheelhousing bulges in the payload area. They bring you the latest in cab comfort, too, with many de luxe features at no extra cost.

"OCTOPUS OUTLET" solved by Reddy and Full HOUSEPOWER

TESTIMONIAL:
"Ten years ago, when I began working in my employer's new house, life was rosy... but the ever-increasing demands of modern living were just too much for me. My energy was drained by extension cords... I was over-worked and under-fed. As a result I became a hazardous "octopus outlet!"

"My employer called an electrician to check their home wiring. He diagnosed Low HOUSEPOWER due to inadequate wiring, a condition affecting 4 out of 5 houses today!"

"Outdated wiring systems do not allow for enough convenience outlets to sufficiently serve today's electric living. Lack of enough outlets and circuits results in "octopus outlets". Appliances do not work properly and fuses may blow often.

"Now my employers have Full HOUSEPOWER, which means:

- Large enough entrance wires and high amperage main switch to allow electricity to work efficiently in the house.
- Large enough wires and plenty of circuits throughout the house.
- Plenty of convenience outlets.

"Thanks to Reddy and Full HOUSEPOWER I'm really a convenience outlet now and I'm helping my employers to Live Better... Electrically!"

Probe Mystery Blast In Airliner; Comb Desert Area for Body of Man

GEORGE AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Civil Aeronautics Board officials and the FBI today took charge of an investigation into a mysterious explosion that ripped a large hole in the side of an airliner, hurtling a heavily-insured passenger 10,000 feet to his death.

The CAB planned to make an "inch by inch" search for powder marks in the shattered rear section of the Western airliner. At the same time searchers combed the desolate desert area in an attempt to find the body of the missing passenger, S. F. Binstock, 62, of Canoga Park, Calif.

The FBI announced that it had stepped into the case to determine if a federal violation had been committed which would bring the explosion under their jurisdiction. Binstock was revealed to have taken out flight insurance on himself totaling $125,000 before making the trip. His wife, Eva, was named beneficiary. One of the policies contained a suicide clause.

The explosion occurred at 10,000 feet and was centered in the lavatory of the airliner which had stopped at Las Vegas, Nev., 47 minutes earlier on a flight from Minneapolis to Los Angeles. Binstock boarded the plane in the pre-dawn hours at Las Vegas and passengers said he entered the tiny washroom shortly after takeoff.

Stewardess Joan Hollinger narrowly escaped being blown out of the plane with Binstock. She was in the rear section making coffee for the passengers when the airliner was rocked with the blast. She said her hat was blown off by the suction but she managed to grab "something solid" and hold on.

Girl, 19, Admits Killing Roommate With Flatiron

BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP)—A teen-aged girl admitted today she bludgeoned her beautiful roommate to death with a flatiron and then stabbed her because she needed $160 to pay some "pressing debts."

Police held Elaine Soule, 19, a typist from Freeport, Long Island, N. Y., on suspicion of murder after she confessed killing Catherine (Kit) Marie Elvins, 20.

Miss Elvins was the socialite daughter of a prominent Seattle physician, Dr. Richard E. Elvins.

Police found Miss Elvins' battered body Thursday night in the Burlingame apartment both girls had been sharing.

According to Deputy Dist. Atty. Howard Hartley, Miss Soule smashed the heavy iron repeatedly on Miss Elvins' head as she slept. Then, he said, she stabbed her roommate with a kitchen knife.

Appeal Ruling in Williamson County

MARION, Ill. (AP)—A ruling which would permit white grade school students at Colp to detach from the Negro-white district and attend school next fall at Carterville was appealed today to Williamson County Circuit Court at Marion.

The 25 plaintiffs in the suit included the four Negro members of the Colp grade school board.

They are appealing a ruling of the Williamson County board of trustees after a hearing July 8.

Named as defendants were the county trustees, the trustees and board of the Carterville grade school district, and more than 200 persons who signed the petition to detach.

Chrysler Building, Two Other Skyscrapers Sold in $66 Million Deal

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest real estate deal in New York City history was announced Thursday when Webb & Knapp agreed to sell three skyscrapers — including the Chrysler Building — for 66 million dollars.

The buildings include the 30-story Graybar Building and the 32-story Chrysler East Annex besides the main 77-story Chrysler Tower, the city's second tallest building.

The buyer is a syndicate headed by Lawrence A. Wien. He will assume the 75 per cent control Webb & Knapp bought from the Chrysler family interests for 52 million dollars in 1953.

The deal involves $20 million in cash.

23 Dead in Turkish Jet Plane Crash

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—The death toll in the crash of a Turkish air force jet plane at Bursa rose to 23 today as seven injured persons died in hospitals.

The jet plane crashed and exploded in a row of houses and shops in Bursa, a city in northwest Turkey. The pilot was killed when his parachute failed to open.

The crash, worst in Turkish aviation history, killed 16 persons outright including the pilot and injured 14 others.

Autopsy Reveals Forceps in Abdomen Following Surgery

CHICAGO (AP)—An autopsy Thursday on a man who underwent surgery at two hospitals in the past year and a half revealed a 5-inch forceps in his abdomen.

Joseph Olson, 59, a carpenter, died Wednesday in Woodlawn Hospital. His wife, Doris, 60, requested the autopsy which was performed by Dr. Francis Archer, pathologist on the Woodlawn staff.

Woodlawn Supervisor W. J. Brookshire said Olson entered the hospital June 9 complaining of stomach pains.

Brookshire said an operation for adhesions was performed June 23 and Olson left the hospital July 10. He returned Tuesday complaining of pains and nausea.

Olson underwent surgery for ulcers in another hospital about 18 months ago.

ICC Grants Rail Passenger Fare Increase in Illinois

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois Commerce Commission has granted a 10 1/2 per cent increase in passenger fares to 22 railroads operating within the state of Illinois.

The increase was announced Thursday following an ICC approval of 10 per cent increases for the same railroads.

The increase applies on trips within the state. It will go in effect on 14 western railroads Monday and on eight eastern railroads Thursday.

The commission said no commuter service would be affected except for some South Shore one-ride rates.

Charge Textile Official Misused $101,963 Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee charged today that the smooth-talking secretary-treasurer of the United Textile Workers misused $101,963 of union funds for personal purposes, including 24 visits to the Broadway musical "My Fair Lady."

Alphonse F. Calabrese of the committee staff presented a long list of things bought with union funds by Lloyd Klenert, the union leader whose Ivy League accent evaporates under pressure.

Included were a $25 corkscrew, a $566 color TV set, a $149 tuxedo, and $40 worth of trampoline lessons for his wife.

Also $2,564.65 for tickets to the New York musical based on George Bernard Shaw's play about a cockney English girl who rises in high society by learning proper speech.

Calabrese said Klenert charged most of the items to his unpaid hotel bills. He stopped at some of the nation's swankiest inns and the total tab in the three years ending March 3 ran to $36,364.

Calabrese said the total hotel bills showed charges of $14,107 for c.o.d. packages, $12,644 in cash advances to Klenert, $971 for golf, cabana and other charges, and $2,312 miscellaneous.

The staff investigator said union President Anthony Valente misused another $26,442 of union funds, mostly for a $24,000 down payment on his home. Klenert, he said, used $33,000 for the same purpose.

Brownell 'No Good': Truman

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today that Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell is "no good" because among other things, he won't let him autograph dollar bills anymore.

"That attorney general would love to put me in jail," Truman told Lon Gentry, architect for the Truman library building, where Truman has his offices. The statement came after Gentry asked the former President to autograph a dollar bill for a friend.

"I used to order those signed," Truman said, "but I've had to quit putting my name on them. It's against the law and that damned attorney general would just love to put me in jail."

While in the White House, Truman often autographed bills for friends. Defacing U. S. currency violates federal law.

Truman added that he probably knew more about the law than did the attorney general. Asked if he was joshing about Brownell, Truman added, "It's the truth."

State Auditor to Return Unspent Emergency Funds

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—About $146,000 of the $369,258 in emergency funds provided to make up for shortage in office accounts left by ex-Auditor Orville E. Hodge will be returned to the state treasury, State Auditor Elbert S. Smith said today.

The auditor also sent letters to members of the Legislature noting the unspent part of the emergency appropriation would not be needed.

The emergency fund was voted to meet a backlog of unpaid bills left when Hodge resigned from office and was sent to prison for his multi-million dollar raid on the state treasury. Unpaid obligations included bills for auditing work, office rentals, telephone service and business machine rentals, Smith said.

Senate to Open Steel Price Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Anti-trust and Monopoly subcommittee will begin hearings Aug. 6 to investigate the recent steel price increase of $6 a ton.

Subcommittee Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said the inquiry will be made in connection with a general study of the steel industry's pricing policies.

Roger Blough, president of the U. S. Steel Corp., was invited to be the first witness. Kefauver said the heads of other steel companies were asked to submit certain material and might also be invited to testify.

The steel price investigation is part of the subcommittee's study of "administered prices" — those set by corporation executives rather than by wide open competition, Kefauver said.

but has almost overcome a severe speech impediment.

But now we're getting down to the point:

As writer Keasler puts it, Ritchey fought to save his sense of humor and now feels his sense of humor has saved him.

Instead of giving way to depression he decided to write gags for cartoons.

He had rejection after rejection but kept at the writing—working an hour or two a day.

He has sold about a hundred gags right now. He studies published cartoonists and when he finds one whose style he likes, he mails a batch of gags to that cartoonist, care of the magazine in which he sees the work. The cartoonist may take one, several or none at all.

Here is how Ralph sums it up: "There's no jackpot at the end of the rainbow. But, for me, this business has been a very effective antidote. It's been a lifesaver."

Martin Oil, Social Brethren III and National League Teams Win in Kiwanis

Martin Oil edged Skaggs Pharmacy, 9-7. Social Brethren's III leaguers defeated Athletic House, 7-3, and the National League Social Brethren entry whitewashed Sahara Coal, 7-0, in Kiwanis games Thursday.

Potter and Betz, Martin pitchers, struck out 15 batters and gave up only five hits in their 9-7 victory over Skaggs. Potter led the winners' attack with a home run and a triple, followed by Hickey who homered and singled, and Gibbons with two singles. Bensavage had a single and a grand-slam homer for the losers.

Beal scattered four hits, fanned six, and walked only one to pitch Social Brethren to a 7-3 win from Athletic House. Cline paced the winners at bat with a double and two singles, and R. Hutchison, Simpson, D. Hutchison, and McKeever hit safely once. Roberson and Vick singled twice each for the losers.

Logan hurled a three-hit shut-out and struck out nine as Social Brethren beat Sahara 7-0. Stricklin had three doubles, Yarbber tripled and singled, Logan homered, and Meler singled for the winners. Pickford, Beggs and Biggs singled for Sahara.

United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Tommy Jackson, billed in the fight marts as the "Hurricane," will prove along about 8:24 p. m. c.s.t. Monday night that he's not an ill wind.
In roughly the seventh round, the "Hurricane" will do Floyd Patterson a lot of good by blowing his chances at Floyd's heavyweight championship.

Jackson, a man who hates chopped steak and likes hamburger, and you'll have to figure out that one yourself, by the seventh round should be up to his hips in canvas and up to his eyes in Salisbury steak.
Ordinarily you wouldn't expect this bout to draw flies. The only thing Jackson, the Spartan from Sparta, Ga., has going for him is magnificent physical condition. It is no secret that he couldn't knock off your Easter bonnet with a baseball bat.

However, you can't beat the fact that this is the only heavyweight championship fight available Monday night. Or, as far as that goes, for quite a few Monday nights.
There just aren't any legitimate heavyweight challengers around and so Patterson, willing or unwilling, is forced to start what may well be a "Bum of the Month" club a la Joe Louis. This certainly makes a good start.

You couldn't be criticized, actually, if you didn't know who really is the heavyweight champion of the world or if you entertained a suspicion that Patterson as of the moment doesn't rate with the all-time champions of the ring.
Won Vacant Title

He won the vacant title from Archie Moore last November. In the succeeding eight months, Floyd has been sitting on the throne in solemn solitude waiting for somebody to come along and make a payday.

But don't overlook the fact that this is a fine fighting machine whose future greatness will be marred only by the fact that there was nobody around for him to fight. As the 5-1 choice, Patterson seems about as safe as government bonds. If he loses to Jackson, a man he beat with one hand a year ago, there conceivably could be a congressional investigation.

One thing this fight will prove is that there really is a Floyd Patterson. And Jackson, the gentle south wind billed as the "Hurricane," will prove to Floyd that, yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus.

DETROIT (AP)—Coach Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions said today he was "happy" to have quarterback Tobin Rote, the key man in a six-player trade negotiated with the Green Bay Packers.

The Lions, who finished second in the Western Division of the National Football League last season with a 9-3 record, have two signal callers under tow, Bobby Layne and Jerry Reichow.

But Layne, a long-time veteran, has been plagued with a sore right shoulder for about three years and is nearing the end of his playing career. Reichow, a graduate of Iowa, was a rookie last year and saw only limited service.

Rote was the league's top quarterback last season and has pulverized the Lions on occasion. He led the league in pass completions, yardage and attempted passes.

To obtain Rote and a second man, halfback Val Joe Walker, from the Packers, the Lions traded halfback Don McIlhenney, tackle Oliver Spencer, guard Jim Salisbury and tackle Norm Masters.

The deal was not officially announced but leaked out prematurely when the Lions notified Rote's family in Texas.

VFW Nine to Play Thompsonville Saturday Night

The Harrisburg VFW baseball team will be after its seventh Oil Belt League win when it plays the Thompsonville Red Birds Saturday night on VFW Memorial field at 8 p. m.

The Oil Belt League is as tight as the National League race as all of the first 4 teams are bunched with only one game separating the first and fourth place teams.

If the locals win Saturday night they will be only 1/2 game out of first place.

The VFW slumped slightly when it lost several good players a few weeks ago but now the replacements are coming around nicely and the team is rolling along with a two game winning streak.

Thompsonville has a good young hustling team and a good pitcher in Melvin, a righthander.

VFW will probably start Raymon Tonazzi, who has a 4-game winning streak, and Dick Romanosky will catch. Other players who will see action for VFW are Bill McNew, Don Wallace, Bob Dallas, Don Stout, Dick Odle, Kayo Willis, Don Proctor, Ray Sisky, Rod Smith, Paul Emery, Cordell Hill, James Hay and Ron Vick.

Cardinals Within Half Game Of First in 3-2 Win Over Dodgers; Race Tightens Up

By United Press
Get out that shoe horn again because five clubs are all trying to squeeze into first place today.

The Cardinals moved within a half-game of first place by beating Brooklyn, 3-2, Thursday night, and the Redlegs closed to within a game of the lead with a 9-1 victory over Pittsburgh.

Only one game separates the first four clubs—Milwaukee, St. Louis, Brooklyn and Cincinnati—with fifth-place Philadelphia climbing to within only 2 1/2 games of the top as a result of a 5-3 decision over the Braves.

The Cards threw a monkey wrench in Brooklyn's plans to take over the league lead when they beat Don Newcombe Thursday night for the first time in seven years at St. Louis.

Newcombe and Herm Wehmeier were tied at 2-2 until the Cards cracked through for the winning run in the eighth on singles by Alvin Dark and Stan Musial and Wally Moon's sacrifice fly.

Art Fowler of Cincinnati went the distance for the first time this year in checking the Pirates on seven hits. In addition, he drove in the Redlegs' first two runs with a bases-loaded single off Ronnie Kline, who lost his sixth straight game and 14th of the campaign.

Ed Bailey and Gus Bell each homered.
Robinson Roberts of the Phillies scored his first victory since June 6 in beating the Braves although Dick Farrell had to be called in to get the final out. Roberts gave up nine hits, including Hank Aaron's 30th homer in the fourth inning to post his seventh victory against 13 defeats. Ed Bouchee drove in three of Philadelphia's runs as Warren Spahn suffered the loss.

Mike McCormick, 18-year-old bowler, won his first major league game in pitching the Giants to a 5-2 triumph over the Cubs, but he needed ninth-inning relief from Marv Grissom. McCormick struck out seven and gave up all six Chicago hits. Daryl Spencer homered for the Giants.

In the American League, the White Sox shaved the Yankees' lead to 3 1/2 games with a 6-2 triumph over the world champions; Boston defeated Kansas City, 5-3; Washington edged Cleveland, 3-2 in 10 innings, and Baltimore blanked Detroit, 3-0.

Dick Donovan was the whole show in the White Sox victory, holding the Yankees to four hits and contributing a seventh-inning homer. Lefty Bobby Shantz failed in his fifth try for his 10th victory. The triumph for Donovan was his 10th and it followed a one-hit shut-out over the Red Sox last Saturday.

Top Talent of Grand Ole Opry Show at Saline Fair Monday

Fans of the Grand Ole Opry show, who have heard their favorites over radio station WSM, Nashville, and have seen them on television, including WSIL-TV, Harrisburg, will have the opportunity of seeing a large group of the Grand Ole Opry gang in person at the Saline County Fair Monday night.

Fans of the show have so many different favorites, it is difficult to say which talent is featured.

Johnnie and Jack with Kitty Wells are three of the artists. Johnnie and Jack have parlayed two golden voices and a guitar into a combination which has earned them recognition as the nation's number one vocal duet.

My waist line has gone from 34 inches down to 28 and in a short time, I feel so much better have lost weight from my hips, thighs and abdomen. Thanks for the Rensel home recipe which has made it all so easy." So writes Mrs. J. Janine of 3316 Caseyville. Get Rensel at your drug store.
